COMMENCEMENT DAY.

Fifteenth Annual Exercises of the Decatur High School—Seventeen Graduates Receive Diplomas.

The Programme in Full—Names of the Graduates—Programme and Music.

The Usual "Crowded House" in Attendance.

Another prosperous year in the history of the Decatur High School is numbered with the past, to-day witnessing the fifteenth annual public commencement exercises at Smith's opera house, in the presence of this valued institution of learning the usual immense throng of people, relatives and friends of the graduates, and supporters and friends of the school.

The state of the atmosphere was rather damp and the temperature chilly, but nevertheless, before the exercises began at nine o'clock, all the available seats were occupied and standing room was at a premium.

THE DECORATIONS.
The decoration of the stage, which was executed in acknowledged good taste, was done by the members of the third year class. Graceful loops of evergreens are pendant from the proscenium directly over the footlights, and they extend to the pillars on either side of the stage. Strung upon a wire and mingled with the loops of evergreen are these words in large green letters: "Who Knows His Own Mind is Rich," and pendant below the center of this sentence is a green horn of plenty, standard with fresh red, pink and white flowers. A miniature bank of bright flowers and plants decorate the center of the stage near the footlights, and on the south and north sides of the stage are floral wreaths and anchors and blooming plants in profusion, all nicely arranged.

THE EXERCISES.
The programme published before was observed. When the curtain rolled up, the 17 graduates were disclosed occupying a double row of chairs on the north side of the gas lit stage, the members of the board of education, President Barnes, W. B. Chambers, John Ulrich and Supt. E. A. Gastman, and also L. E. Brown and Lower Barrows and the clergy at the rear of the stage. On the south side were seated members of the high school faculty: Prof. J. N. Wilkinson, J. H. Conrad, Misses Mary French, S. Alice Judd, and Maggie Leeper.

Owing to the length of programme and limited time we cannot give even a synopsis of the papers prepared by the graduates. Therefore we can only give the programme.

Benediction—Rev. J. P. Dimmitt, of the First
M. E. Church.
Chosen before the essays were written, to give the exercises mentioned after the name, and excused from giving essay or oration.

The announcements were made by Mr. E. A. Gastman, who has been the efficient superintendent of the city schools for so many years, and he directed all the exercises, which passed off quickly and in order.

The exercises were of a deeply interesting and instructive character, and the essays indicated that the authors had given the subjects discussed much searching consideration. The thoughts were all concisely and clearly expressed, and were clothed in beautiful language.

THE FIRST NEGRO GRADUATE.
The fact that Robert B. Rogan, aged about 18, son of Mr. Isaac Rogan, is the first colored boy who has ever graduated from the Decatur High School, calls for more than a brief mention. "Bob," as he is familiarly called by his classmates, fitted himself for the high school in the fourth year school, and during his four years experience in our free college he has applied himself closely to his studies, acquiring a vast amount of knowledge, which, if rightly applied, as it undoubtedly will be, will make him a useful citizen in our community. He stood well in his classes and was foremost in Latin. He is the only colored pupil who has entered the high school and graduated. The subject of his oration this forenoon was a comparison of the lives and achievements of the negro chieftain, Toussaint l'Ouverture, through whose bravery and sufferings and death the island of San Domingo is now in possession of his race, and Napoleon Bonaparte. The oration, though brief, was delivered in a calm, dignified manner, and with many graceful gestures. When he arose Robert was greeted with a general burst of applause from all parts of the hall, and when he resumed his chair the applause was almost deafening.

One of the graduates received a basket of ripe peaches, and another got a miniature willow chair, on the seat of which was placed a box of large and luscious strawberries.

This year the floral offerings were brought from the audience in the parquette and gallery to the stage by ughers, and by request none were thrown upon the stage, as has been the custom in former years.

The "Daughter of Error" chorus, by members of the high school and others, under the direction of Miss Judd, was very well rendered.

Bob Rogan, the colored graduate, had quite a number of friends of his race in the audience, who felt specially interested in his effort, and were manifestly pleased with his oration.

The young gentlemen graduates were remembered by Linn & Scruggs with charming button hole bouquets and the young ladies received lovely baskets of cut flowers from the same firm.

The little misses, dressed in white, and wearing red, white and blue sashes, who brought the floral offerings upon the stage and laid them before the graduates were, Corinne Shillabarger, Mamie Harwood, Sadie Roby and Edith Corns, who were assisted by Everett Brown and Will Wood.

With but one exception all of the young ladies of the '92 class were attired in white, and all looked lovely as they stood before the sea of eyes centered upon them and read their capably prepared essays.

The anvil chorus, "The Song of the Forge," by the graduating class, in which fire anvils were used, was one of the novel features of the extra number. It was given with fine effect under the direction of Miss Judd and Mrs. M. L. Cain.

Ripe cherries were among the novel offerings, and quite a number of handsomely bound and valuable books were presented.

Miss Jeannette Bowers, the accomplished pianist, generously granted her invaluable services at the commencement.

LETTER FROM JUDGE DAVIS.

Sick for a Week—Words About Court Matters.

This morning the following letter, which explains itself was received in this city:

CHAMPAIGN, ILL., June 1, 1892.
JOHN A. BROWN, Esq.—My Dear Sir: This is the first writing I have done with a pen since I left Decatur a week ago, and I am now writing in bed. I have not yet been able to sit up any, but I am beginning to feel a good deal better, and hope to be up soon, but it is extremely doubtful whether I shall be able to hold court next week. If Judge Wilkin is still there and has not adjourned, tell him to adjourn until next Monday morning a week, instead of next Monday, for that seems to be as soon as I can safely go to work.

Am very much obliged to you for your kind notice of inquiry. Mrs. Smith is improving slowly, but not near well. I have been quite sick, and very weak. Have the Judge say to the bar that I regret this interruption to their business very much indeed. I think the docket should be advanced also a week and an order made to that effect. What was the result in the Davis case?

Yours Truly,
C. B. SMITH.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Alexander Robert Kraft will lecture. Rev. D. P. Bunn will preach at Mt. Pulaski next Sunday.

President Chas. A. Ewing will deliver his maiden address at the opera house to-night.

Miss Hannah Dresbach and niece, Miss Sue Roberts, of Chillicothe, Ohio, are guests of the Misses Dresbach, on Broadway.

Mrs. William Hatch and children, of Emporia, Kansas, arrived in the city this morning. They are guests at the home of Mr. H. A. Newell on West North street.

T. J. Dare, of the Summit tobacco works, of Cincinnati, and one of the gifted English speaking linguists of Indianapolis, dined at the St. Nicholas to-day with his friend W. H. Cole.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Mitchell, Mrs. G. M. Wood, and Miss Helen Moore and Mamie Wood returned home last night from Belleville where they attended the Moore family reunion.

Bloomington Leader: Mrs. Hoffman, wife of Rev. H. O. Hoffman, who has long been an invalid, has been failing rapidly within the past few weeks, and is now in a critical condition.

Among those who attended the Pickrell sale of short horn cattle at Harristown yesterday were Hon. J. C. Lake, Ald. A. W. Hardy, Judge Bacon, E. B. Pratt, Dr. J. H. Gristwood, C. A. and E. F. Ewing, Theron Powers, James Hatfield, B. Z. Taylor, E. A. Jones, wife and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Curtis, P. H. Brueck and others.

Monticello Bulletin: Judge J. E. Eden, of Sullivan, one of the best hotel men in central Illinois, will erect the coming summer a commodious hotel building in that city on the site of the old one which was burned down two years ago. The new building will be of brick, 60 feet front by 125 feet deep and three stories high, in modern style, with all the latest hotel improvements and conveniences. It will cost from $15,000 to $20,000.

Springfield Journal: Mr. Horace Morgan, our old friend and highly respected fellow-townman, has moved to Decatur, where most of his children reside, and has permanently located at that place. Mr. Morgan has led a most honorable life in this city for the past 35 years, during which time he has made a host of warm friends who sincerely regret his departure.

Mr. Morgan is the father of Horace, George and Albert Morgan, and of Miss Alma Morgan, the dramatic reader. The family will occupy the Allen property on West Cerro Gordo street. We welcome the family to Decatur and hope their stay among us will be long and pleasant.

EARLY CLOSING.
We, the undersigned, Dry Goods, Carpet and Millinery merchants of the city of Decatur, do hereby agree to close our respective places of business at the hours hereby specified, viz: From January 1st to March 31st at 6:30 P.
